

Whistle-blower and Grievance Policy

Introduction

Phunciona Gestión Hospitalaria, SA is committed to the highest standards of openness, probity and accountability in our activities.

An important aspect of accountability and transparency is a mechanism to enable staff and other members of the Company and stakeholders to voice concerns in a responsible and effective manner. It is a fundamental term of every contract of employment that an employee will faithfully serve his or her employer and not disclose confidential information about the employer's affairs. Nevertheless, where an individual discovers information which they believe shows serious malpractice or wrongdoing within the organisation then this information should be disclosed internally without fear of reprisal, and there should be arrangements to enable this to be done independently of line management (although in relatively minor instances the line manager would be the appropriate person to be told).

The Company is bound by national and international law for whistleblowing and grievance, which will apply, unless the requirements of this policy are more stringent.

The Company has endorsed the provisions set out below to ensure that no person should feel at a disadvantage in raising legitimate concerns.

It should be emphasised that this policy is intended to assist individuals who believe they have discovered malpractice or impropriety. It is not designed to question financial or business decisions taken by the Company nor should it be used to reconsider any matters which have already been addressed under harassment, complaint, disciplinary or other procedures.

Scope of Policy

This policy is designed to enable stakeholders of the Company and employees to raise concerns internally and at a high level and to disclose information which the individual believes shows malpractice or impropriety. This policy is intended to cover concerns which are in the public interest and may at least initially be investigated separately but might then lead to the invocation of other procedures e.g. disciplinary. These concerns could include:

- Financial malpractice or impropriety or fraud.
- Failure to comply with a legal obligation or Statutes.
- Health & safety, human rights, other social, or environmental breaches or concerns.
- Criminal activity.
- Improper conduct or unethical behaviour.
- Attempts to conceal any of these.

Whistle-blower and Grievance Policy

Safeguards

Protection - this policy is designed to offer protection to those employees of Phunciona Gestión Hospitalaria, SA who disclose such concerns provided the disclosure is made:

- * in good faith

- * in the reasonable belief of the individual making the disclosure that it tends to show malpractice or impropriety and if they make the disclosure to an appropriate person (see below). It is important to note that no protection from internal disciplinary procedures is offered to those who choose not to use the procedure. In an extreme case, malicious or wild allegations could give rise to legal action on the part of the persons complained about.

Confidentiality – Phunciona Gestión Hospitalaria, SA will treat all such disclosures in a confidential and sensitive manner. The identity of the individual making the allegation may be kept confidential so long as it does not hinder or frustrate any investigation. However, the investigation process may reveal the source of the information and the individual making the disclosure may need to provide a statement as part of the evidence required.

Anonymous Allegations - this policy encourages individuals to put their name to any disclosures they make. Concerns expressed anonymously are much less credible, but they may be considered at the discretion of the Company. In exercising this discretion, the factors to be taken into account will include:

- * The seriousness of the issues raised
- * The credibility of the concern
- * The likelihood of confirming the allegation from attributable sources

Untrue Allegations - If an individual makes an allegation in good faith, which is not confirmed by subsequent investigation, no action will be taken against that individual. In making a disclosure the individual should exercise due care to ensure the accuracy of the information. If, however, an individual makes malicious or vexatious allegations, and particularly if he or she persists with making them, if the individual is an employee of the Company disciplinary action may be taken against that individual.

Procedures for Making a Disclosure

Where an individual discovers information or activities which they believe shows serious malpractice or wrongdoing, this should be disclosed internally without fear of reprisal.

After disclosure, an appropriate designated investigating officer will be designated as appropriate and will follow the 'Investigating Procedure', below.

Whistle-blower and Grievance Policy

Typically, the disclosure process, and the appointment of an appropriate designated investigating officer is as follows:

- * Complaints of malpractice should be raised to, and investigated by, an appropriate person not in any way related to the alleged malpractice.
- * Complaints against a Director should be passed to the Chairman who will nominate an appropriate internal/external investigating officer.
- * The complainant has the right to bypass the line management structure and take their complaint direct to the Board. The Board has the right to refer the complaint back to management if he/she feels that the management without any conflict of interest can more appropriately investigate the complaint.

This process includes complaints of malpractice from main contractors and service providers. On receipt of a complaint of malpractice, the member of staff who receives and takes note of the complaint, must pass this information as soon as is reasonably possible, to the appropriate designated investigating officer. This is typically as follows:

- * Complaints of malpractice should be raised to, and investigated by, the General Manager unless the complaint is against the General Manager or is in any way related to the actions of the General Manager. In such cases, the complaint should be passed to the Board or shareholders for referral.
- * In the case of a complaint, which is any way connected with but not against the General Manager, as appropriate, the SPV Board will nominate a Senior Manager or external party to act as the alternative investigating officer.
- * Complaints against a Director should be passed to the Chairman who will nominate an appropriate internal/external investigating officer.
- * The complainant has the right to bypass the line management structure and take their complaint direct to the Board (or Shareholder(s)). The Board (or Shareholder(s)) has the right to refer the complaint back to management if he/she feels that the management without any conflict of interest can more appropriately investigate the complaint.

In any case, if there is evidence of criminal activity then the investigating officer should inform the police. The Company will ensure that any internal investigation does not hinder a formal police investigation.

Should none of the above routes be suitable or acceptable to the complainant, then the complainant may approach the following individuals who has been designated as an independent point of contact under this procedure.

Whistle-blower and Grievance Policy

Timescales

Due to the varied nature of these sorts of complaints, which may involve internal / external investigators and / or the police, it is not possible to lay down precise timescales for such investigations. The investigating officer should ensure that the investigations are undertaken as quickly as possible without affecting the quality and depth of those investigations.

The investigating officer, should as soon as practically possible, send a written acknowledgement of the concern to the complainant and thereafter report back to them in writing the outcome of the investigation and on the action that is proposed. If the investigation is a prolonged one, the investigating officer should keep the complainant informed, in writing, as to the progress of the investigation and as to when it is likely to be concluded.

All responses to the complainant should be in writing and sent to their home address marked “confidential”.

Investigating Procedure

The investigating officer should follow these steps:

- * Full details and clarifications of the complaint or issue should be obtained.
- * If there is a complaint against a member of staff, the investigating officer should inform the member of staff against whom the complaint is made as soon as is practically possible. The member of staff will be informed of their right to be accompanied by a trade union or work colleague at any future interview or hearing held under the provision of these procedures. At the discretion of the investigating officer and dependant on the circumstances of the complaint or issue, an alternative representative may be allowed e.g. the individual's legal representative.
- * The investigating officer should consider the involvement of the Company auditors and the Police at this stage and should consult with the Board if appropriate.
- * The allegations should be fully investigated by the investigating officer with the assistance where appropriate, of other individuals / bodies.
- * A judgement concerning the complaint / issue raised and validity of the complaint / issue raised will be made by the investigating officer. This judgement will be detailed in a written report containing the findings of the investigations and reasons for the judgement. The report will be passed to the Chief Executive or Chairman as appropriate.

Whistle-blower and Grievance Policy

- * The Chief Executive / Chairman will decide what action to take. If the complaint / issue raised is shown to be justified, then they will invoke the disciplinary or other appropriate Company procedures.
- * The complainant or individual should be kept informed of the progress of the investigations and, if appropriate, of the final outcome.
- * If appropriate, a copy of the outcomes will be used to enable a review of Company procedures.

If the complainant or individual is not satisfied that their concern is being properly dealt with by the investigating officer, they have the right to raise it in confidence with other designated persons as described above.

If the investigation finds the allegations unsubstantiated and all internal procedures have been exhausted, but the complainant or individual is not satisfied with the outcome of the investigation, Phunciona Gestión Hospitalaria, SA recognises the lawful rights of employees and ex-employees to make disclosures to prescribed persons or body

Signed for and on behalf of Phunciona Gestión Hospitalaria, SA

Casildo Sánchez Mantas

29th November 2022

.....
Director

.....
Date